Contents

Anwar Al-Banna, Ph.D.

The Assessment of Parental Rearing Behaviour, Dysfunctional Working Models, Depression and its Relationship to Psychological Impairment in Finnish Evacuees Separated from their Parents as Children During World War II, 1939-1945: A Case-control Study ................................................................. 23
Pentti Andersson, P.D.

Remembering the Wartime Generosity of Kodak and Hoover ................................................................. 31
Michael Henderson

Freedom Comes When There is Little Left to Lose: A Philosophical Piece ................................................................. 47
Mai Maddisson

Narrative Tropes and Emotional Realism in Memories of Evacuees to Staffordshire ................................................................. 57
Professor Maggie Andrews

The Libyan Civil War and the Law of Unforeseen Consequences ................................................................. 63
John Oakes

Post-War Mobilities: Gender, Poverty and Opportunity in Vietnam’s Third Wave of Mass Urban Migration ................................................................. 71
Catherine Earl

Reading Force. Can an experience of shared reading be used as a conduit to effective communication within both Services families and their wider communities? ................................................................. 77
Dr. Alison Baverstock and Ms Hattie Gordon

Born Guilty - The Unfair Perceptions of Children in Norway and the Netherlands Due to German Paternity in WWII ................................................................. 89
Olivia Farrow

‘Opening Pandora’s Box’: The experience of psychologists working with clients who were evacuated as children during the Second World War ................................................................. 97
Dr Anne-Marie Martin

The Fate of Estonian Children Deported to Siberia on 14th June 1941: Survivor Testimony ................................................................. 105
Peep Varju

Effects of World War Two Evacuation and Occupation on Guernsey Children ................................................................. 115
Kim Madsen

Coping with Classes During Conflict: Education During World War II ................................................................. 127
Sidney Brown